The Woman Who Pours

Companion Workbook

Eleven Chapters of Reflection and Response

GRACE TURNER

Dedication

This workbook is for you.

For the woman who read the devotional and felt something stir.
For the woman who knows healing cannot stay only in her thoughts, but needs a safe place to be written, prayed through, named, released, and practiced.

This companion workbook was created to support the emotional and spiritual work of The Woman Who Pours. It gathers the practices, prompts, prayers, reflections, and action steps suggested throughout the devotional so you do not have to search for a separate place to record what God is revealing, healing, and rebuilding in you.

It is included free with the ebook devotional as an act of care, because your healing matters beyond the page you read. You deserve space to respond, space to remember, space to be honest, and space to keep walking with God one written line at a time.

Workbook Dedication

For the woman who is ready to move from reading to healing, from reflection to response, and from survival to surrender. May these pages become a quiet place where truth rises, masks fall, and the wisdom of God leads you gently forward.

But most importantly this is my journey. Every path that I have walked, the classrooms of frustration, invisibility, silence, surrender, trust, and more. So don't just read it, embody it, because this is your calling to truth.

I am not a licensed minister; I was given this authority by God.

I have been every profile of woman, and some of them at the same time. Depleted, guilty, striving and lost, but loved by the Supreme One who created love. And most of the time, it is not apparent, but it has forged compassion in me to serve.

Enjoy, Grace

Workbook Introduction

This workbook was created as a companion to The Woman Who Pours, but it can also stand on its own as a guided journey for women who are seeking healing through the wisdom of God. It is designed to help readers slow down, notice what has been hidden, name what has been heavy, and respond to God with honesty.

This edition now follows the ebook chapter for chapter, eleven companions in all, including a new companion for Rahab and the Scarlet Cord. Each one opens with the same Hebrew word and the same attribute of God that closes its matching chapter in the devotional, so what you study and what you write live on the same page of your journey.

Whether used alone or with a group, this workbook is meant to create space for prayer, truth-telling, reflection, and practical steps of renewal.

Use one section at a time rather than rushing through all the exercises. Read with honesty. Write without trying to sound impressive. Pause often enough to notice what rises in your heart. If using this workbook in a group, let tenderness and confidentiality shape the conversation. The purpose is not performance. It is healing through the wisdom of God.

About the Author

CHAPTER 1 COMPANION

When a Woman Feels Reduced

Hebrew Word: dakka. Divine Attribute: His Nearness.

Scripture Focus: Psalm 22:6

"But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people."

JOURNAL PROMPT

Where in my life do I feel most reduced, overlooked, or emotionally thin?

REFLECTION

List the responsibilities, expectations, disappointments, and hidden burdens that feel heaviest in this season. Circle the ones you have been carrying without bringing honestly to God.

PRAYER

Pray this sentence slowly and fill in the blank: "Lord, I have been carrying _____, and I do not want to carry it without You anymore."

ACTION STEP

Choose one burden to name before God every day this week instead of hiding it beneath routine.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, thank You for staying near even when I feel ground down to dakika, dust beneath a millstone. Teach me to bring You what feels too small or too crushed to mention. Meet me close, the way You promised.

CHAPTER 2 COMPANION

David, Lament, and the Human Cry of the Psalm

Hebrew Word: sha'ag. Divine Attribute: His Attentiveness.

Scripture Focus: Psalm 22:1-2, 6

"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent. But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people."

JOURNAL PROMPT

What pain in me still needs language?

REFLECTION

Write a short lament to God beginning with the words, "Lord, this is where I feel unseen..."

PRAYER

Read your lament slowly and ask God to meet you in every line.

ACTION STEP

Give yourself ten uninterrupted minutes this week to pray without polishing your emotions.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, You heard David's sha'ag, his roaring cry, and You did not turn away. Hear mine as well. Let my honest prayer, however unpolished, reach Your attentive ear.

CHAPTER 3 COMPANION

The Hebrew Word and the Crimson Worm

Hebrew Word: tola'at. Divine Attribute: His Humility.

Scripture Focus: Psalm 22:6

"But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people."

JOURNAL PROMPT

Where have I let a symbol or a title stand in for the truth of what I am actually feeling?

REFLECTION

Write about one place in your life where a small, easily dismissed word (worm, weak, too much, not enough) has actually been carrying real weight. What would it look like to let that word be examined honestly before God rather than brushed past?

PRAYER

Thank God that He was not ashamed to let tola'at describe His own Son's suffering, and ask Him to help you stop being ashamed of your own lowest words for yourself.

ACTION STEP

This week, notice one moment you minimize your own pain with a joke or a shrug, and instead name it plainly in a single sentence to God.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, You were willing to be described as tola'at, crushed and poured out, for me. Give me the humility to stop performing strength I do not feel, and the courage to let You meet me in the low place instead.

CHAPTER 4 COMPANION

Rahab and the Scarlet Cord

Hebrew Word: tiqvah. Divine Attribute: His Faithfulness.

Scripture Focus: Joshua 2:18, 21

"Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this line of scarlet thread in the window... and she bound the scarlet line in the window."

JOURNAL PROMPT

What part of my history do I believe disqualifies me from being used, trusted, or fully loved by God?

REFLECTION

Rahab's whole household was saved through one cord of hope tied to a window, not through a clean past. Write about the "scarlet cord" moments in your own story: the places where God's faithfulness reached you before your record was ever cleaned up.

PRAYER

Thank God that tiqvah, hope, does not wait for you to qualify yourself first.

ACTION STEP

This week, speak one sentence of your past out loud to God exactly as it happened, and thank Him for the cord that is already tied to your window.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, thank You for Rahab, who did not need a clean past to receive Your faithfulness. Tie my own scarlet cord of hope in the window of my life, and let it hold even when I doubt I am worth saving.

CHAPTER 5 COMPANION

Christ in the Psalm

Hebrew Word: azab. Divine Attribute: His Nearness in Abandonment.

Scripture Focus: Psalm 22:1; Matthew 27:46

"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

JOURNAL PROMPT

Where in my life has God's felt absence been the hardest part of the pain itself?

REFLECTION

Christ Himself prayed the words of Psalm 22:1 from the cross. Write about a season where you felt forsaken, and consider what it means that Jesus does not just comfort abandonment from a distance, He has personally prayed it.

PRAYER

Ask God to meet you specifically in the feeling of His absence, not only in the feeling of His presence.

ACTION STEP

This week, when you feel far from God, pray Psalm 22:1 word for word instead of avoiding the feeling.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, thank You that Christ prayed azab, forsaken, from the cross, so that even my sense of Your absence has already been carried by Him. Draw near to me in the exact place I feel most alone.

CHAPTER 6 COMPANION

The Overwhelmed Woman in Today's World

Hebrew Word: yaga. Divine Attribute: His Rest.

Scripture Focus: Matthew 11:28-30

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

JOURNAL PROMPT

Which burdens have I accepted that God never asked me to carry?

REFLECTION

Make two columns: "What I am carrying" and "What belongs back in God's hands."

PRAYER

Offer each burden back to God by name.

ACTION STEP

Release one unnecessary burden this week through a boundary, a conversation, or a conscious surrender.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, I am tired the way yaga means tired, worn down by labor I was never meant to carry alone. Teach me Your easy yoke, and give my soul the rest it has been too overwhelmed to ask for.

CHAPTER 7 COMPANION

Practical Ways to Stop Striving and Start Pouring

Hebrew Word: shaphak. Divine Attribute: His Sufficiency.

Scripture Focus: James 1:5; Romans 12:2

"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind."

JOURNAL PROMPT

What voice has been shaping my thinking most strongly in this season?

REFLECTION

Write down three messages the world has taught you about worth, image, or success. Then write one scriptural truth beneath each one.

PRAYER

Ask God for wisdom that is clear, pure, and peace-giving.

ACTION STEP

Reduce one source of mental noise this week and replace it with scripture meditation.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, teach me to shaphak, to pour out, instead of straining to produce. Let my service flow from Your sufficiency rather than my own effort, so striving can finally give way to rest.

CHAPTER 8 COMPANION

Reflection for the Woman Who Pours

Hebrew Word: chaphets. Divine Attribute: His Delight in Truth.

Scripture Focus: Philippians 1:6

"Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ."

JOURNAL PROMPT

What signs of healing, however small, can I already see?

REFLECTION

Write a letter to your future self about the healing God is beginning in you now.

PRAYER

Thank God for the work He has started and ask for grace to keep walking with Him.

ACTION STEP

Choose one ongoing practice you will carry forward from this study into the next month.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, You delight in chaphets, truth in the inward parts, more than any performance I could offer You. Keep me honest about where I still need healing, and confident that the good work You began will not be abandoned.

CHAPTER 9 COMPANION

Taking Off the Mask

Hebrew Word: kasah / galah. Divine Attribute: His Light.

Scripture Focus: Psalm 22:6, 24

"But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard."

JOURNAL PROMPT

What version of myself do I show others, and what is happening underneath that version?

REFLECTION

Write two short paragraphs: one describing the self you present in public, and one describing the condition of your inner life before God.

PRAYER

Ask God to reveal where you have confused hiding with strength.

ACTION STEP

Practice one honest moment this week in prayer, journaling, or conversation where you do not minimize what is real.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, You do not ask me to remove the mask to shame me, but to bring me into galah, into light. Give me courage to lay down the version of myself I have been performing.

CHAPTER 10 COMPANION

Renewing the Mind with the Wisdom of God

Hebrew Word: chadash. Divine Attribute: His Creative Power.

Scripture Focus: Romans 12:2

"And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

JOURNAL PROMPT

Which thoughts in my life sound familiar, but do not sound like God?

REFLECTION

Identify one repeated thought shaped by fear, pressure, performance, or spiritual blindness. Then write a truth from God's Word that answers it.

PRAYER

Ask the Lord to help you recognize the difference between what is loud and what is true.

ACTION STEP

Repeat one scripture-based truth each day this week whenever the old thought pattern returns.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, You are the God of chadash, of making new. Renew my mind where it has grown old and familiar with lies, and remake my thinking after Your good and perfect will.

CHAPTER 11 COMPANION

Walking in Sacrificial Rebirth

Hebrew Word: qum. Divine Attribute: His Resurrection Power.

Scripture Focus: Psalm 22; Romans 12:1-2

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind."

JOURNAL PROMPT

What is God inviting me to release so I can live more freely in Him?

REFLECTION

Describe one surrendered choice that could become the beginning of a new season in your life.

PRAYER

Ask God to help you trust grace with what you release.

ACTION STEP

Begin one small practice of rebirth this week: rest, truth-telling, stillness, scripture meditation, a boundary, or a needed ending.

Date: _____ Response:

Chapter Prayer

Lord, You are the God of qum, of rising. Raise up in me what has quietly died from striving, and let this rebirth be sacrificial, surrendered, and fully Yours.

Closing Prayer

Lord, thank You for walking through these eleven companions with me, chapter by chapter, word by word. Where I have poured until empty, teach me to be filled by You first. Where I have hidden, bring me gently into Your light. Where I have carried what was never mine to carry, help me set it down at Your feet. Let every Hebrew word I have learned and every attribute of Yours I have written down here become part of how I see You from now on. In Jesus' name, amen.

Ministry and Group Use

This workbook may be used individually or in a small group setting. If used with a group, keep the same order as the ebook, one chapter and its companion section per gathering, and allow extra time for the newer Chapter 4 Rahab session, since it often opens deep conversation about disqualification and worthiness.

Facilitators are encouraged to hold space for silence, to protect confidentiality, and to never require anyone to read their written responses aloud. The goal of every session is the same as the goal of the book: honesty before God, not performance before others.
